DETAILED ACTION

Withdrawn Rejections

1. The 35 U.S.C. 112 rejection of claims 1 and 3 of record in the Office Action mailed 12/3/03, Page 2, Paragraph #3 has been withdrawn due to the Applicants amendment filed 5/5/04.
2. The 35 U.S.C. 102 rejection of claims 1 and 3 as being anticipated by Sado et al. of record in the Office Action mailed 12/3/03, Page 3, Paragraph #5 has been withdrawn due to the Applicants amendment filed 5/5/04.
3. The 35 U.S.C. 103 rejection of claims 1 and 3 over Sado et al. in view of Voaden et al. of record in the Office Action mailed 12/3/03, Page 4, Paragraph #7 has been withdrawn due to the Applicants amendment filed 5/5/04.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.
5. Claims 1, 3 and 10-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sado et al. (4,971,748).

Sado et al. discloses a polyimide molding of thermoplastic aromatic polyimide resin, comprising a wall defining an opening at one end and closed at an opposite end (Fig. 1, #11), and having a depth therebetween (see col. 6, line 57), wherein the wall thickness is between 0.001 mm and 0.5 mm (see col. 5, lines 43-45), and the thermoplastic aromatic polyimide resin has a glass transition temperature between 200°C and 350°C (see col. 2, lines 36-40) and has a degree of elongation at break of from 50 to 2,000% at its glass transition temperature (see col. 2, lines 40-42), and wherein the polyimide molding has a plurality of repetitive patterns (see col. 5, lines 22-27). However, Sado et al. fails to disclose a ratio of depth to opening between 1.0 and 3.0. Sado et al., however, does teach a depth of 50 mm and a diameter of 200 mm (see col. 6, lines 56-58), as one example, which results in a ratio of depth to opening of 0.25. Therefore, the optimum range for the ratio of depth to opening would be readily determined through routine experimentation by one having ordinary skill in the art depending on the desired end results as shown by Sado et al. Thus, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the applicant's invention was made to have provided the polyimide molding in Sado et al. with a ratio of depth to opening between 1.0 and 3.0, since it has been held that where the general conditions of a claim are disclosed in the prior art, discovering the optimum or workable ranges involves only routine skill in the art in absence of showing unexpected results. MPEP 2144.05 (II).

Regarding claim 3, note the wall thickness falls between 0.01 and 0.2 mm (see col. 5, lines 43-45). Regarding claim 10, note the repetitive patterns are cup container-shaped (see col. 5, lines 57-58). Regarding claim 11, note the glass transition point is between 220 and 300°C (see col. 2, lines 38-40). Regarding claim 12, note the elongation at break is from 300 to 800% (see col. 2, lines 40-42). Regarding claim 13, note the polyimide resin is a condensate of a carboxylic acid anhydride and a diamine (see col. 2, lines 59-63). Regarding claim 14, note the carboxylic acid anhydride is selected from the group recited in claim 14 such as 3,3',4,4'-benzophenonetetracarboxylic acid dianhydride (see col. 3, lines 20-35).

Regarding claim 15, note the diamine is selected from the group recited in claim 15 such as 4,4'-diaminodiphenylether.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 3 and 10-15 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
